Laurie Fenton Ambrose receives the 2024 Brady McKee Award!

Congratulations to the 2024 award recipient,
CEO & President of GO2 for Lung Cancer,
Laurie Fenton Ambrose!

Laurie has dedicated the last 18 years to confronting lung cancer and transforming survivorship. Her passion for helping those in need has impacted the Lung Cancer Screening initiative significantly. She has received national and international recognition for improving health policies and raising awareness about lung cancer screening. She has served over 20 years on public policy in the US Department of Commerce and House of Representatives.

By Shawn Regis

As part of our mission to reduce barriers to screening, the Rescue Lung Society (RLS) developed a registry for CT lung screening (CTLS). The registry will provide a repository of high-quality data that organizations can use to assess the quality of their screening program and to create performance benchmarks. This data warehouse will help inform future clinical guidelines in the US and globally. The registry is available free of charge for RLS members. We expect that institutions and jurisdictions around the world, especially those just starting to implement CTLS, will benefit from joining the registry. There is a need for a high-quality data repository. Screening centers often don't have the resources required to calculate quality metrics such as screening volumes, rates of intervention, positive predictive values, cancer detection rates, false positive rates, smoking cessation rates, stage breakdowns, and time to diagnosis.
